

Project Profile

NPRI and ARET Reports

Several Pulp and Paper Mills, Central Canada

Various annual environmental reports on chemical releases and emissions, some voluntary and some required by federal environmental regulations have been completed for several pulp and paper mills since 1995.

Reports include the NPRI (National Pollutant Release Inventory) report and the ARET (Accelerated Reduction / Elimination of Toxics) report.

The following activities were included in the scope of work:

- ! Identification and quantification of usages and releases of all reportable substances, or changes in quantities used or released based on major process changes or additions occurring during each year.
- ! Estimation of anticipated releases in next three years.
- ! Preparation of ARET and NPRI reports in government required format.
